HARDING, INAUGURATED PRESIDENT, OUTLINES POLICIES

REJECTS BIDS FOR SYCAMORE CANYON IMPROVEMENT

BOARD OF TRUSTEES HEARS PROTEST AND DECIDES TO DROP PROCEEDINGS

Proposed improvement of Sycamore Canyon Road has again been dropped, for the Board of City Trustees, in session last night, voted unanimously with Trustee Henry absent, to reject all bids.

In a communication to the board, T. W. Watson, city manager, reported that the bid of the Los Angeles Paving company, totaling $128,193.20, was the lowest of the four submitted and recommended that, in view of the differences of opinion among property holders in the district regarding the proposed work, the offer of the lowest bidder be taken under consideration for four weeks and, in the meantime, the people of the district be requested to submit an alternative proposition as a substitute for the plans outlined.

A number of property holders present, however, objected to the cost of the improvement, the fact that the work, seemingly, was for a storm drain rather than a street and, too, that if given a week's time a petition against the work signed by fully seventy per cent of the frontage could be secured, so the board, finally, decided to reject all bids.

All Bids Are Rejected

This action was taken after Mr. Werden, representing the successful bidder, announced that he objected to a delay of four weeks because his firm had other contracts in view and, too, he said he did not desire to enter into "a long wrangle" over the proposed improvement. He said he would be perfectly satisfied, under the circumstances, to have his firm's bid rejected.

J. C. Sherer and a number of others opposed the work at the cost submitted and the protestants suggested that as the street seemed to be proposed primarily for a storm drain, the entire city should bear its portion of the expense.

It was developed by the discussion that the work was first suggested about eight years ago and has been considered several times since then, bids having been rejected a few months ago.

PURCHASES LAND FOR SUB-DIVISION

F. GUILLENIN, FORMERLY OF PORTLAND, HAS SECURED ERSKINE PROPERTY

F. Guillemin and family, who recently arrived in Glendale, have purchased the property known as the Erskine hills in the southeastern section of the city.

Mr. Guillemin states that he looked around southern California for three months and finally decided that Glendale was an ideal city and this hill property appealed to him as a fine place for a home site. He intends to reserve a site for his home and sub-divide the rest into beautiful building sites to be opened up soon.

The Guillemins are from Portland, Oregon, and they are quite familiar with hill property, having lived on Portland Heights, which is considered the finest residence district in that city.

During the evening a delightful ride around Glendale, Eagle Rock and Pasadena was enjoyed. The guests are old time friends of Dr. and Mrs. Brandstater. In a discussion of conditions in this country as compared to those of others Miss MacDonald brought attention to the fact that the cost of things in this country is so much less than in New Zealand.

Pleasing Program Is Under Club Auspices

The motion picture entertainment given last night by the Thursday Afternoon club, under the direction of J. O'Neil Farrell of 1831 Gardena avenue, for the purpose of assisting in raising money for the purchase of a motion picture machine to be used for showing educational films in the schools of the southern part of Glendale, was well attended. The program included films taken in British Columbia, winter sports in the province of Quebec and comedies.

Miss Florence Turner, former Vitagraph star, appeared in person. Albert E. McCouvery recited several poems by Edward E. Guest. The Thursday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. E. V. Bacon is president, is planning another entertainment for the near future.

INQUIRY OVER CITY SCHOOL PROBLEM IS UNDER WAY

MASS MEETING DECIDES TO HAVE COMMITTEE MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS

At a mass meeting, attended by more than 100 residents of the Glendale grammar school district, at the Intermediate school last night, a motion was carried to the effect that a committee of nineteen be appointed by the chairman and the board of trustees, this committee to study the overcrowded conditions in the schools and make recommendations for the amelioration of the situation. It will report back to another mass meeting at the call of the chairman, David Black.

After Mr. Black was elected chairman of last night's meeting, City Superintendent Richardson D. White described the conditions in Glendale schools, much the same as he described them several days ago through the columns of The Glendale Evening News.

Grades Are Overcrowded

Practically all of the grades are overcrowded, he told the parents present, and he described the comparatively small grounds which now limit development. He took each school separately and told of the conditions existing—how at some the libraries were utilized for classrooms, how sheds were housing the kindergartens and how benches on the playgrounds were serving as study halls.

After this recital of what the schools are unable to provide, George B. Woodberry suggested that Glendale's schools be standardized.

Roy L. Kent added his views to those of Mr. Woodberry, declaring that Glendale should get away from the large and expensive school buildings. He favored the securing of additional sites and suggested that the problem be worked out in conjunc-

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF TWO GLENDALE VISITORS; SOCIAL TIME GREATLY ENJOYED

Mrs. Emma L. Wood of 320 West Broadway entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. William Ingram of Oakland and Mrs. Evans of Utica, N. Y.

The invited guests were Mrs. William Ingram, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. R. H. Wells, Mrs. J. H. Sherman, Mrs. W. S. Ingram, Mrs. T. S. Caldwell, Mrs. J. Schremp, Mrs. James Hutchinson of Los Angeles, Mrs. L. Bradley, Mrs. O. R. Barnett, Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Charles Wells, Mrs. A. C. Reed, Mrs. J. S. Thompson, Mrs. Eugene Wilson, Mrs. J. A. McKelvey, Mrs. Robert Hopkins, Mrs. Butterly, Miss Mary Elizabeth Evans, Miss Jean Ingram, Miss Orinda Wilson, Jean Caldwell and Stuart Caldwell.

Pale pink sweet peas and ferns were used very effectively for decorations. The afternoon was spent in music. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and other dainties were served.

Banquet Given For Members Of Hi-Y

Hi-Y Group No. 2, under the leadership of J. Edwin Murphy, were hosts last night at a banquet, served in the social quarters of the First Presbyterian church, to Hi-Y Group No. 1 of which Alfred Cookman is leader and to the following freshman boys who are planning to organize a new group under the leadership of L. C. Leeds of 115 North Central avenue: Lyle Archer, Sam Tupper, Theodore Haig, Joe Knefler, Charles Thompson and Jack Trafton.

The banquet, which consisted of hot tamales, potatoes, rolls, coffee, ice-cream and cake, was put on entirely by the boys of the group. The tables were arranged to form the letter "Y" and were decorated with bouquets of pink carnations.

The social committee in charge of the affair included Fred Hand, Paul Edmonds, Jack Wright and Cecil Wilson. Mr. Murphy, leader of Group No. 2, spoke on "That Something," bringing out the idea of the boys in high school trying to supply "that something" to make the fellows inject the clean things in their high school life.

FULL TEXT OF HARDING'S ADDRESS

My countrymen, when one surveys the world about him after the great storm, noting the marks of destruction and yet rejoicing in the ruggedness of the things which withstood it, if he is an American he breathes the clarified atmosphere with a strange mingling of regret and new hope. We have seen a world passion spend its fury, but we contemplate our republic unshaken, and hold our civilization secure. Liberty—liberty within the law—and civilization are inseparable and though both were threatened we find them now secure and there comes to Americans the profound assurance that our representative government is the highest expression and surest guaranty of both.

Standing in this presence, mindful of the solemnity of this occasion, feeling the emotions which no one may know until he senses the great weight of responsibility for himself, I must utter my belief in the divine inspiration of the founding fathers. Surely there must have been God's intent in the making of this new world republic. Ours is an organic law which had but one ambiguity, and we saw that effaced in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintaining the nation supreme and its concord inspiring. We have seen the world rivet its hopeful gaze on the great truths on which the founders wrought. We have civil, human and religious liberty verified and glorified. In the beginning the old world scoffed at our experiment; today our foundations of political and social belief stand unshaken, a precious inheritance to ourselves, an inspiring example of freedom and civilization to all mankind. Let us express renewed and strengthened devotion, in grateful reverence for the immortal beginning and utter confidence in the supreme fulfillment.

Progress Proves Wisdom

The recorded progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy of non-involvment in old world affairs. Confident of our ability to work out our own destiny

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COUNCIL ADJOURNED UNTIL MAY 15

PARIS, March 4.—The league of nations council, meeting here for the past two weeks, adjourned today to assemble May 15, at Geneva, league headquarters.

250,000 REPORTED KILLED BY EARTHQUAKES IN CHINA

SHANGHAI, March 4.—Renewed earthquakes in the Kansu and Shensi provinces have killed 250,000 persons, according to advices here. The famine relief committee is sending investigators.

TRADERS PAY LITTLE ATTENTION TO INAUGURATION

NEW YORK, March 4.—Traders on the New York stock exchange paid little attention at the opening today to the inauguration of a new president or events in the allied conference in London. The general list continued strong. An exception was Atlantic Gulf, which dropped almost five points due to the decision to take no dividend action on preferred stock for sixty days. The stock opened at 39.

EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL GOES DOWN WITH VETO

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The sixty-sixth congress, after two of the busiest peace time years on record, checked out today. Working at top speed for the last two weeks it came within one notch of reaching the goal set by President Harding—the passing of all appropriation bills. The naval bill was the only one failing. The "dying hours" of the congress brought death to the Fordney emergency tariff bill. President Wilson's veto message of the measure stood when the house early today failed to override. The vote was 201 to 132, or 21 less than the necessary two-thirds.

L. A. POLICE SEARCHING FOR THREE POSTAL ROBBERS

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—All available men of the police force and the sheriff's office today were searching for three highwaymen who last night robbed a United States mail truck in the downtown district here and escaped in their own automobile with a dozen sacks of registered mail of an estimated value of more than $15,000. Nelson Grimes and J. R. Alexander, driver and clerk, respectively, on the mail wagon, were handcuffed to the vehicle by the bandits after the robbery which took place near the crowded intersection of First and Alameda streets.

GERMAN DELEGATES TO SUBMIT NEW PROPOSALS

LONDON, March 4.—After a long night session, German reparations delegates again attacked their problem here today, rushing the completion of new counter proposals for the allies to be submitted Monday noon. The air of the Germans was distinctly optimistic. Although cast down by the fury of Premier Lloyd George's speech in which they were charged with full guilt for the war and with the practice of atrocities, the delegates were hopeful. Privately it was stated they had anticipated heavier penalties than the allies named for failure to meet the reparations demands.

SOLEMN SCENES AS OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED

WEATHER IS CLEAR AND COOL AND INAUGURAL CEREMONY SIMPLE AND BRIEF

By L. C. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Warren G. Harding of Ohio today took the oath of office as the twenty-ninth president of the United States.

Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts was sworn in as vice president and president of the senate.

Thirty-three senators were inducted into office as members of the sixty-seventh congress.

The inaugural ceremonies were simple and brief, as Harding wished. They were conducted under half-masted flags, reminders of the fact that as a new republican administration took the helm, Champ Clark, a great democrat, lay dead nearby.

Wilson Busy Signing Bills

Woodrow Wilson, who for eight years has headed the government, was busy with official duties until the close of his administration, signing bills at the capitol.

Chief Justice White of the supreme court administered the constitutional pledge to Harding.

Under the rule of simplicity imposed by Harding, those who watched his induction into office stood. Thirty blind soldiers alone of the vast assemblage were provided with chairs. Diplomats, generals, cabinet officers, men and women alike, remained standing throughout the administering of the oath, and the inaugural address which followed it.

Immediately after concluding his speech, Harding, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, his father and other relatives, rode to the White House, where luncheon was served for the members of the Harding family.

Ready for His Work

That ended the inauguration so far as Harding was concerned. He was ready to go to work. Vice President Coolidge, meantime, had started to work by presiding over a brief session of the senate, called in extraordinary session to pass on nominations for Harding's cabinet.

As a social event the inaugural was a disappointment to those who value inaugurals chiefly for social reasons. There was no official inaugural ball, no official parade.

There were three unofficial and semi-private "inaugural balls," none of which either the Hardings or the Coolidges planned to attend. In spite of the entire absence of spectacular features the inaugural attracted a great host of visitors to Washington.

The weather was clear and cool.

Inaugural Program Begins

The inaugural program began when the president-elect and Mrs. Harding met the joint inaugural committee at their hotel shortly before 10:30 and left for the White House.

The Harding party arrived at the White House in a few minutes and found the president and Mrs. Wilson ready for the ride to the capitol.

In the first car rode President Wilson, President-elect Harding, Knox and Cannon. The second car contained Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Harding, Senator Nelson and Representative Rucker. In the third was Vice President Marshall, Mrs. Coolidge and Senator Overman. The fourth carried Vice President-elect Coolidge, Mrs. Marshall and Representative Reavis.

Following were secret service men and newspaper correspondents.

Upon arrival at the capitol, Harding and Coolidge went to an ante room off the senate chamber. Wilson went to the president's room nearby to sign or reject last minute legislation.

During the ride to the capitol

Verse Harding Kissed

WASHINGTON, March 4.—President Harding introduced an innovation in inaugural ceremonies today, when he kissed a verse in the Bible selected beforehand. The custom has been for the Bible to be opened at random, and for the new president to kiss its pages without knowing what verse his lips touched.

Some time ago, however, Harding made known his desire to have the Bible belonging to George Washington used, and selected the eighth verse of the sixth chapter of Micah to kiss. This verse reads:

"He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

BOARD OF TRUSTEES BUSINESS SHOWN BY MINUTES

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS FOR SESSION OF LAST NIGHT, TAKEN BY CITY CLERK

At the regular meeting of the Board of City Trustees March 3, the following was transacted:

Board assembled at 8:10 p. m., all members present, except Trustee Henry. Minutes of the regular meeting of February 24 were read and approved.

Sycamore Canon Improvement

The subject of the Sycamore Canon Road improvement was brought up at this time. The bids received and opened at the meeting of February 24 having been referred to the city manager, who presented to the board a written recommendation in regard to same, to the effect that all except the bid of the Los Angeles Paving company be rejected and that this bid being the lowest one, be taken under consideration for a period of four weeks. During this time it might be possible for property owners in the proposed assessment district to agree upon some plan of improvement that would be satisfactory. On motion of Trustee Lapham, recommendation was adopted and it was ordered that bids of the Messrs. Curtis, Oswald and Ferry be rejected on roll call vote, all voting aye. Absent, Henry.

After considerable discussion of the matter, there being a large number of citizens present opposed to the project as at present outlined a motion of Trustee Lapham was adopted that the matter be reconsidered.

Trustee Lapham made a motion, which was adopted, that all bids for the improvement of Sycamore Canon Road be rejected, by roll call vote, all voting aye. Absent, Henry.

Hospital Permit

The application of Mrs. Whitney for a permit to keep a limited number of patients at her home on East Lexington Drive, was called up at this time and after brief discussion, a motion of Trustee Bartlett that permit be granted was adopted, all voting aye. Absent, Henry.

Brand Boulevard Association

Clinton L. Booth, representing the Brand Boulevard Improvement association, presented to the board a copy of the minutes of a meeting of a special committee representing this association at which the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the city trustees of the City of Glendale be requested to establish grades of all street crossings on Brand boulevard throughout its entire length from the southern to the northern city limits, and that said grades be established to conform to the existing grades of roadways on either side of the Pacific Electric railway tracks."

The minutes further recited the action of the committee in requesting the trustees take steps to widen Brand boulevard at its intersection with San Fernando Road at the northeast corner, so as to eliminate a dangerous projection.

On motion of Trustee Robinson the city engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance to establish grades as requested by improvement association.

Oak Street Improvement

Mr. Clark of the Oak Street Improvement association, addressed the board, stating that proposition of the city manager for temporary repair work on Oak street does not meet with the approval of the organization. He wishes further information as to plans of the public service department in improving the water service of that street by installation of a larger distributing pipe. The chairman informed him that the board is not able at this time to give definite answer to this question, but would be able to do so within one week from date.

Mr. Davis wished to be informed as to the policy of governing expenditures of bond money. Mr. Ball spoke in regard to improvement of Elk street. These matters were all discussed at some length and no action was taken.

Communications

An application was presented from D. E. Cornalino asking for a permit to remove twenty-five feet of curbing on Grand View avenue and four eucalyptus trees on San Fernando Road. Referred to city manager.

An application was read from E. Coker, plumber, requesting return of $2, that amount being in error paid twice for the same job. Referred to plumbing inspector.

A petition signed by Daniel Hunsberger, C. L. Ballard, Clem Moore, requesting that steps be taken to open Pacific avenue between Wilson avenue and Salem street was referred to city manager and city attorney.

A communication was read from Thomas D. Watson, captain of Glendale National Guards, thanking the board for making an allowance to care for the lighting of the high school athletic field. Ordered filed.

A communication was read from P. S. McNutt, attorney, reporting that judgment had been entered against the city of Glendale in the case of Robinson vs. City of Glendale and requesting settlement. Referred to the city attorney. This case is defended by L. C. Brand under a guarantee to the city.

Demands

The demands were presented and referred to finance committee, which approved the demands and on motion of Trustee Robinson warrants were ordered to be issued in payment of same, by roll call vote, all voting aye. Absent, Henry.

Reports of City Manager

The city manager submitted a written report on the proceedings of the meeting held at Riverside, attended by him at which twenty-five cities were represented, the object being to consider hydro-electric power resources of southern California. Ordered filed.

The city manager submitted a written report in regard to the order of the board at its last previous meeting in regard to extensions of water and light business. He desired the interpretation of the order and called attention to certain matters in regard to which he wishes more definite instructions.

Order Amended

A resolution presented by Trustee Bartlett was adopted, all present voting aye, that the order issued at the meeting of February 24, permitting the continued supply of water and light already being supplied to occupied residences, also the proposed supply to the Pacific Mineral & Chemical company. A motion of Trustee Bartlett was adopted that the matter covered by paragraphs 2, 4 and 5 in the city manager's communication be considered at the next meeting of the board.

The city manager recommended that Mr. Cole be permitted to construct a cesspool in accordance with his application and on motion the permit was granted, subject to compliance with the specifications covering the same.

In regard to the application of the Glendale & Montrose railroad company for a franchise the city manager reported that there seemed to be no objection to the granting of the same, but no action was taken.

In regard to a traffic officer to be stationed on San Fernando Road the matter of the preparation of an ordinance providing for same was referred to city attorney.

Public Service Department

The engineer recommended that in the construction of the Verdugo Road reservoir, which is being rapidly completed by Contractor Ferry, a six-inch drain pipe be installed and on motion of Trustee Bartlett it was so ordered, on roll call all voting aye.

The engineer stated that the completion of this reservoir would materially improve water conditions during the coming summer.

Barbara Drive

On motion of Trustee Robinson, resolution was adopted as resolution No. 1167 declaring intention to close up, vacate and abandon a portion of Barbara drive, on roll call all voting aye. Absent: Henry.

Maple Street Improvement

The city engineer presented to the board a diagram showing assessment district for the improvement of Maple street and the same was, on motion of Trustee Robinson, approved.

Maps Approved

On motion of Trustee Robinson, may of tract No. 4142 was adopted by resolution No. 1168. On motion of Trustee Lapham, map No. 4075 was adopted by resolution No. 1169. On motion of Trustee Robinson, map No. 4148 was adopted by resolution No. 1170.

City Attorney

The city attorney reported in regard to the preparation of an ordinance prohibiting the erection of tent houses within the city; that it is not possible to prevent their construction in all cases, but only in such instances where it can be shown that they are a menace, on account of danger of fire, to other buildings. On motion of Trustee Robinson the city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance incorporating in the building ordinance, providing that no tent houses be erected within fifty feet of any other building, without a permit first being obtained from the building inspector.

The city attorney reported receipt of a communication from the railroad commission, wishing to be informed as to whether the city of Glendale desires at this time to press the proceedings in regard to properties of the Southern California Gas company. On motion of Trustee Lapham, action was deferred for one week.

The city attorney also reported receipt of a notice of hearing to be held on March 15, 1921, to consider the application of the Southern California Telephone company for an order fixing rates. On motion of Trustee Bartlett, the city manager was instructed to secure additional data so as to bring up to date the report showing approximately how many business concerns in the city of Glendale are making daily use of telephone connections in Los Angeles. On motion of Trustee Bartlett, the city attorney was authorized to secure the services of Mr. Irwin as telephone expert to assist him in the hearing before the commission. On motion of Trustee Robinson, the city attorney was instructed to attend the hearing as above.

Ordinance of Intention

Trustee Lapham presented an ordinance of intention to widen Brand boulevard, which was read and laid over.

Trustee Robinson presented an ordinance providing for the regulation of traffic, which was read and laid over.

Municipal District No. 4

A petition was presented to the board signed by J. H. Randall and twenty-seven other property owners in the Grand View district asking that proceedings be taken for the formation of municipal district in that territory. Referred to the city clerk to check up and report.

Los Feliz Road

On motion of Trustee Bartlett, ordinance previously presented to the board ordering the widening of Los Feliz road was adopted as ordinance No. 429, all voting aye on roll call. Absent: Henry.

Resolution of Sympathy

On motion of Trustee Bartlett, the following resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered spread upon the minutes:

"Whereas, The mother of our fellow trustee, Mr. C. H. Henry, has been called from the scene of her earthly activities, after an unusually long and useful life, we hereby extend to Mr. Henry an expression of fullest sympathy in the loss of a parent with whom in the common law of nature his earliest recollections are involved."

Kennel License

On motion of Trustee Bartlett, the city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance providing for a kennel license in the city of Glendale.

HARDING'S ADDRESS AT INAUGURATION GIVEN IN FULL

OUTLINES HIS POLICIES; HAS SOLEMN WARNING AMERICA NOT WORLD RULER

and jealously guarding our right to do so, we seek no part in directing the destinies of the old world. We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept no responsibility except as our own conscience and judgment in each instance may determine.

Our eyes never will be blind to a developing menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization. We recognize the new order in the world, with the closer contacts which progress has wrought. We sense the call of the human heart for fellowship, fraternity and co-operation. We crave friendship and harbor no hate. But America, our America, the America builded on the foundation laid by the inspired fathers, can be a party to no permanent military alliance. It can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations which will subject our decisions to any other than our own authority.

I am sure our own people will not misunderstand nor will the world misconstrue. We have no thought to impede the paths to closer relationship. We wish to promote understanding. We want to do our part in making offensive warfare so hateful that governments and peoples who resort to it must prove the righteousness of their cause or stand as outlaws before the bar of civilization.

Association for Counsel

We are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, to seek the expressed views of world opinion, to recommend a way to approximate disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens of military and naval establishments. We elect to participate in suggesting plans for mediation, conciliation and arbitration and would gladly join in that expressed conscience of progress, which seeks to clarify and write the laws of international relationship and establish a world court for the disposition of such justiciable questions as nations are agreed to submit thereto. In expressing aspirations, in seeking practical plans, in translating humanity's new concept of righteousness and justice and its hatred of war into recommended action, we are ready most heartily to unite, but every commitment must be made in the exercise of our national sovereignty. Since freedom impelled, and independence inspired, the nationality exalted, a world super-government is contrary to everything we cherish and can have no sanction by our republic. This is not selfishness, it is sanctity. It is not aloofness, it is security. It is not suspicion of others, it is patriotic adherence to the things which made us what we are.

Today, better than ever before, we know the aspirations of human kind, and share them. We have come to a new realization of our place in the world, and a new appraisal of our nation by the world. The unselfishness of these United States is a thing proven, our devotion to peace for ourselves and for the world is well established, our concern for preserved civilization has had its impassioned and heroic expression. There was no American failure to resist the attempted reversion of civilization; there will be no failure today or tomorrow.

Rests on Popular Will

The success of our popular government rests wholly upon the correct interpretation of the deliberate, intelligent, dependable popular will of America. In a deliberate questioning of a suggested change of national policy, where internationality was to supersede nationality, we turned to a referendum of the American people. There was ample discussion, and there is a public mandate in manifest understanding.

America is ready to encourage, eager to initiate, anxious to participate in any seemly program likely to lessen the probability of war and promote that brotherhood of mankind which must be God's highest conception of human relationship. Because we cherish ideals of justice and peace, because we appraise international comity and helpful relationship no less highly than any people of the world, we aspire to a high place in the woral leadership of civilization, and we hold a maintained America, the proven republic, the unshaken temple of representative democracy, to be not only an inspiration and example, but the highest agency of strengthening good will and promoting accord on both continents. Mankind needs a world-wide benediction of understanding. It is needed among individuals, among people, among governments, and it will inaugurate an era of good feeling to mark the birth of a new order. In such understanding men will strive confidently for the promotion of their better relationships and nations will promote the comities so essential to peace.

Trade Ties Bind Closely

We must understand that ties of trade bind nations in closest intimacy and none may receive except as he gives. We have not strengthened ours in accordance with our resources or our genius, notably on our own continent, where a galaxy of republics reflect the glory of new world democracy, but in the new order of finance and trade we mean to promote enlarged activities and seek expanded confidence.

Perhaps we can make no more helpful contribution by example than prove a republic's capacity to emerge from the wreckage of war. While the world's embittered travail did not leave us devastated lands nor desolated cities, left no gaping wounds, no breast filled with hate, it did involve us in the delirium of expenditure, in expanded currency and credits, in unbalanced industry, in unspeakable waste and disturbed relationships. While it uncovered our portion of hateful selfishness at home, it also revealed the heart of America as sound and fearless, and beating in confidence unfailing.

Amid it all, we have riveted the gaze of all civilization to the unselfishness and the righteousness of representative democracy, where our freedom never has made offensive warfare, never has sought territorial aggrandizement through force, never has turned to the arbitrament of arms until reason had been exhausted. When the governments of the earth shall have established a freedom like our own and shall have sanctioned the pursuit of peace as we have practiced it, I believe the last sorrow and the final sacrifice of international warfare will have been written.

Our Supreme Task

Our supreme task is the resumption of our onward normal way. Reconstruction, readjustment, restoration—all these must follow. I would like to hasten them. If it will lighten the spirit and add to the resolution with which we take up the task, let me repeat for our nation, we shall give no people just cause to make war upon us, we hold no national prejudices, we entertain no spirit of revenge, we do not hate, we do not covet, we dream of no conquest, nor boast of armed prowess.

If, despite this attitude, war is again forced upon us, I earnestly hope a way may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul, to national defense. I can vision the ideal republic, where every man and woman is called under the flag, for assignment to duty, for whatever service, military or civic, the individual is best fitted, where we may call to universal service every plant, agency or facility, all in the sublime sacrifice for country, and not one penny of war profit shall inure to the benefit of private individual, corporation or combination, but all above the normal shall flow into the defense chest of the nation. There is something inherently wrong, something out of accord with the ideals of representative democracy, when one portion of our citizenship turns its activities to private gain amid defensive war while another is fighting, sacrificing or dying for national preservation.

Unity of Spirit and Purpose

Out of such universal service will come a new unity of spirit and purpose, a new confidence and consecration, which will make our defense impregnable, our triumph assured. Then we should have little or no disorganization of our economic, industrial and commercial systems at home, no staggering war debts, no swollen fortunes to flout the sacrifices of our soldiers, no excuse for sedition, no pitiable slackerism, no outrage of treason. Envy and jealousy would have no soil for their menacing development, and revolution would be without the passion which engenders it.

A regret for the mistakes of yesterday must not, however, blind us to the tasks of today. War never left such an aftermath. There has been staggering loss and wasteage of materials. Nations are still groping for return to stable ways. Discouraging indebtedness confronts us like all the war-torn nations, and these obligations must be provided for. No civilization can survive repudiation. We can reduce the abnormal expenditures and we will. We can strike at war taxation, and we must. We must face the grim necessity with full knowledge that the task is to be solved and we must proceed with a full realization that no statute enacted by man can repeal the inexorable laws of nature. Our most dangerous tendency is to expect too much of government and at the same time do it for too little. We contemplate the immediate task of putting our public household in order. We need a rigid and yet sane economy, combined with fiscal justice, and it must be attended by individual prudence and thrift, which are so essential to this trying hour and reassuring for the future.

Reflection of War's Reaction

The business world reflects the disturbance of war's reaction. Herein flows the life blood of material existence. The economic mechanism is intricate and its parts interdependent and it has suffered the shocks and jars incident to abnormal demands, credit inflations and price upheavals. The normal balances have been impaired, the channels of distribution have been clogged, the relations of labor and management have been strained. We must seek the readjustment with care and courage. Our people must give and take. Prices must reflect the receding fever of war activities.

Perhaps we never shall know the old levels of wage again, because war invariably readjusts compensations and the necessaries of life will show their inseparable relationship, but we must strive for normalcy to reach stability. All the penalties will not be light, nor evenly distributed. There is no way of making them so. There is no instant step from disorder to order. We must face a condition of grim reality, charge off our loss and start afresh. It is the oldest lesson of civilization. I would like government to do all it can to mitigate them. In understanding, in mutuality of interest, in concern for the common good, our tasks will be solved. No altered system will work a miracle. Any wild experiment will only add to the confusion. Our best assurance lies in efficient administration of our proven system.

Destruction to Production

The forward course of the business cycle is unmistakable. Peoples are turning from destruction to production. Industry has sensed the changed order and our own people are turning to resume their normal, onward way. The call is for productive America to go on. I know that congress and the administration will favor every wise government policy to aid the resumption and encourage continued progress.

I speak for administrative efficiency, for lightened tax burdens, for sound commercial practices, for adequate credit facilities, for sympathetic concern for all agricultural problems, for the omission of unnecessary interference of government with business, for an end to government's experiment in business, and for more efficient business in government administration. With all of this must attend a mindfulness of the human side of all activities, so that social, industrial and economic justice will be squared with the purposes of a righteous people.

With the nation-wide induction of womanhood into our political life, we may count upon her intuitions, her refinements, her intelligence and her influence to exalt the social order. We count upon her exercise of the full privileges and the performance of the duties of citizenship to speed the attainment of the highest state.

Prayer for Industrial Peace

I wish for an America no less alert in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Our fundamental law recognizes no class, no group, no section. There must be none in legislation or administration. The supreme inspiration is the common weal. Humanity hungers for international peace, and we crave it with all mankind. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards, widely and generally distributed among the inspirations of equal opportunity. No one justly may deny the equality of opportunity which made us what we are. We have mistaken unpreparedness to embrace it to be a challenge of the reality, and due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievement.

If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment. There is no place for it in America. When world war threatened civilization we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we unfurl the flag of law and order and renew our consecration. Ours is a constitutional freedom where the popular will is the law supreme and the minorities are sacredly protected. Our revisions, reformations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress and we mean to cure our ills but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

I had rather submit our industrial controversies to the conference table in advance than to a settlement table after conflict and suffering. The earth is thirsting for the cup of good will; understanding is its fountain source. I would like to acclaim an era of good feeling amid dependable prosperity and all the blessings which attend.

Protection of Industries

It has been proved again and again that we cannot, while throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and opportunity and hold our industrial eminence in such unequal competition. There is a luring fallacy in the theory of banished barriers of trade, but preserved American standards require our higher production costs to be reflected in our tariffs on imports. Today as never before, when peoples are seeking trade restoration and expansion, we must adjust our tariffs to the new order. We seek participation in the world's exchanges, because therein lies our way to widened influence and the triumphs of peace. We know full well we cannot sell where we do not buy, and we cannot sell successfully where we do not carry. Opportunity is calling not alone for the restoration, but for a new era in production, transportation and trade. We shall answer it best by meeting the demand of a surpassing home market, by promoting self-seliance in production, and by bidding enterprise, genius and efficency to carry our cargoes in American bottoms to the marts of the world.

An America of Homes

We would not have an America living within and for herself alone, but we would have her self-reliant, independent, and ever nobler, stronger and richer. Believing in our higher standards, reared through constitutional liberty and maintained opportunity, we invite the world to the same heights. But pride in things wrought is no reflex of a completed task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not inimical to welfare; it ought to be its friendliest agency. There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains varied talents and differing degrees of industry and thrift, but ours ought to be a country free from great blotches of distressed poverty. We ought to find a way to guard against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an America of homes, illumined with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may preside as befits the hearthstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and so hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development, and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to best citizenship.

There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into glad realities. The world has witnessed, again and again, the futility and the mischief of ill-considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism, and we must learn its causes and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genius has made for great possibilities, justice and happiness must be reflected in a greater common welfare.

Service, the Supreme Commitment

Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to acclaim the era of the golden rule and crown it with the autocracy of service. I pledge an administration wherein all the agencies of government are called to serve, and ever promote an understanding of government purely as an expresion of the popular will.

One cannot stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world upheaval has added heavily to our tasks. But with the realization comes the surge of high resolve, and there is reassurance in belief in the God-given destiny of our new republic. If I felt that there is to be sole responsibility in the executive for the America of tomorrow, I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common concern and shared responsibility, answerable to God and country. The republic summons them to their duty and I invite co-operation.

I accept my part with single-mindedness of purpose and humility of spirit, and implore the favor and guidance of God in His heaven. With these I am unafraid and confidently face the future.

I have taken the solemn oath of office on that passage of holy writ wherein it is asked, "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and walk humbly with thy God." This I plight to God and country.

Harding Twenty-ninth President

There is some difference of opinion as to whether Warren G. Harding is the 28th, 29th or 39th president of the United States.

Harding is the 28th individual to sit in the presidential chair. However, Grover Cleveland was twice president, with an interval of four years between his terms. For presidential purposes, therefore, most statisticians regard him in this connection as two men and rate Warren Harding as the 29th president. "Who's Who In America," generally accepted as an authority, names Wilson as 28th president.

Counting Harding, there have been 39 times that the oath of president has been administered, including presidents who have been elected to second terms and vice presidents who succeeded the men elected to the office. On this basis, therefore, Harding would be the 39th president.

Oath Harding Took

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Here is the oath of office administered to President Harding today:

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

President Wilson, on advice of his doctors, did not stay for the inauguration of Harding. He left after signing bills and went at once to his new home.

The Harding cabinet members were grouped in the senate on the republican side.

Senator Cummins, Iowa, president pro tem of the senate, presided, and Senators Lodge and Underwood, the two party leaders, constituted the committee to notify President Wilson of the impending adjournment of congress.

"The president has no further communication to send the congress," Lodge reported to the senate.

Harding of Ohio repeated in a clear, firm voice the oath of office as president of the United States.

Before the cheering had died away Harding stepped forward and extended his arms in a gesture embracing the whole crowd of 50,000 who stood before him and started his inaugural address.

Ten feet away with her eyes upon his face stood Mrs. Harding.

Grouped about were the dignitaries of this government, representatives of foreign nations and a vast concourse of plain, every-day Americans.

UTMOST SIMPLICITY AT INAUGURATION CEREMONIES

ELECTRICAL DEVICE IS USED TO MAKE HARDING'S TALK AUDIBLE TO AUDIENCE

BY L. C. MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 4—Warren G. Harding today took the oath of office as the twenty-ninth president of the United States.

With ceremonies entirely lacking in pageantry or ostentation, Harding took the oath of office on the east steps of the capitol, surrounded by a great throng, all of whom were standing. No seats were provided this year for any of the guests.

The new president shared the curiosity and applause of the crowd with the retiring president, Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson was at least as much in the public eye and thought today as Harding, for the visitors were eager to see the man whose illness had shut him in so long.

Following the induction into office of Vice President Coolidge in the senate chamber, the distinguished foreign diplomats, high officers of the United States army and navy, members of the cabinet, the justices of the supreme court, and the members of the house and senate proceeded to places assigned them on the east portico and steps of the capitol building.

Speech Made Audible

In former years the senate and house, with their guests, have occupied choice seats in a great stand capable of seating 10,000, built at the foot of the steps, and to the right and left of the presidential rostrum. This year, in deference to Harding's wish for simplicity the stand was not built. A smaller stand, big enough to hold the president-elect and the retiring president, Chief Justice White of the supreme court, the Bible bearer and the members of the joint congressional committee on arrangements, was erected. Above, held up by a structural steel skeleton was an amplifier designed to make Harding's speech audible to the outermost fringes of the crowd. This is the first time this electrical device has been used at an inaugural. The steel pillars and supports of the amplifier were hidden away in snowy white wooden columns, and the stand, while simple and small, was more artistic in its construction than is usual.

Chief Justice White administered the oath of office, which Harding subscribed with unlifted hand and clear voice. This is the third time White has sworn in a president. He officiated at both the Wilson inaugurals.

Crowd Is Not So Large

The ceremonies attendant upon the change were probably the simplest since the early days of the republic, when public men made more of an issue of simplicity and democracy than they do now.

President-elect Harding arrived in Washington only a few hours before he was to take the oath of office. Washington streets were alive with sightseers who early in the day moved toward the capitol, but the crowd was nothing like what it has been in former years. The stands along the streets were missing. In other inaugurations visitors have paid high prices to sit in one of these seats to watch the parade. There was no parade today.

Gayly decorated lampposts, flashy uniforms of crack military organizations, heads leaning from the windows along Pennsylvania avenue, band music—all were missing today at the request of the president-elect for simplicity.

Some Sidelights On Harding Inauguration At Washington Today

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Calvin Coolidge was vice president under Woodrow Wilson for a few minutes. He took the oath before Senator Harding. Between the time of the Coolidge oath and Harding oath, Coolidge was vice president, but Harding was not president.

When Harding took the oath his hand rested upon George Washington's Bible and the manuscript of his inaugural address lay upon the table used by Abraham Lincoln at his second inauguration.

Washington hotel keepers today were almost as sad as democratic officeholders. Rooms at $250 a week were canceled when Harding asked a simple inauguration.

Thomas Riley Marshall today gained the distinction of being the third American to complete two successive terms as vice president.

The other two were John Adams, who served two terms with Washington, and Daniel D. Tompkins, who served twice with James Monroe.

George Clinton and John C. Calhoun have been twice elected but Clinton died in office and Calhoun resigned before completing his second term.

Calvin Coolidge is the fourth vice president from Massachusetts. The others were John Adams, who served with Washington; Eldridge Gerry, who served with Madison, and Henry Wilson, who served with Grant. Ohio, the mother of presidents, has never had a vice president, and New York has furnished nine.

There wasn't any traffic jam when Senator Harding rode down Pennsylvania avenue or when President Harding rode back. Washington police cleared the street and Harding and his squad of cavalry had the avenue to themselves.

Inauguration days have always been bad ones for the weather man. For the Taft inauguration the official forecast said fair and the elements double-crossed the forecaster.

Postmaster General Burleson led in all honors for inauguration scenery. The front of the big gray postoffice building facing Pennsylvania avenue was covered with flags and one was flying from each of two flag poles.

"Cal" Coolidge is looking over the job. He has visited the senate twice. He's going again today. The rest of the time he spends talking to friends and to Vice President Marshall.

Leather-lunged young men testing the amplifier which is to make Harding's inaugural speech audible to the crowds have tried everything from an oration about Napoleon to Washington's farewell address.

Harding asked the inaugural ball stopped. It was—officially—but there'll be three unofficially. One is being given by E. B. McLean; there will be a charity affair at the Willard and Ohioans who feel it is no more than right that one of their number should be president, are celebrating, too. It is reported Harding may drop into all three informally.

Seated among the throng at the inaugural was a little group of men, the only ones permitted to sit. Some of them will not see Harding as he takes his oath. They are blinded and crippled soldiers from hospitals.

President Wilson for the first time in eight years is without his personal stenographer. Charles Swem, who occupied that position, has left for Chicago. Swem held the job since Wilson's inauguration except for a short time when he was in the army.

SCHOOL CONDITIONS TOLD TO CITIZENS AT GATHERING

tion with that which faces the high school.

District Consolidation

At this point Mr. White interposed the difficulties in such a move as consolidating the two school districts, although he stated it would be possible to work with that in view. That is, the grammar and high schools would be brought under the supervision of one board and one city superintendent, similar to the Los Angeles system.

Principal George U. Moyse of the high school spoke on this subject briefly.

When representatives from the different sections were called upon to list the needs of their schools, practically all said that at least two additional rooms would be necessary to relieve the congestion.

Charles L. Chandler was present from the Verdugo canyon section and asked that a school be established there, after which Dr. Jessie Russell suggested that a committee be appointed to make a survey of the entire situation and report.

The one bright spot of the evening was Oliver G. Thompson's charge that the building of shacks for schools was just like throwing away money. Captain W. C. Wattles and others took part in the discussion during the evening.

Committee Recommendation

The following recommendation from a joint committee representing the Cerritos avenue, Acacia avenue, Colorado boulevard and Intermediate schools was read:

1. That the present site of the Intermediate school be not enlarged, but that relief be given by the establishment of a new Intermediate school in the southern section of the city, east of Brand boulevard and south of Colorado, being about midway between the present Intermediate and the Cerritos avenue schools.

2. That the present Acacia avenue school be enlarged to include the sixth grade.

3. That the Colorado street school grounds be enlarged by the purchase of eighty feet on Elk avenue to square out and make adequate this side and by the building of a first unit of a new building worthy of this location.

CALVIN COOLIDGE TAKES HIS OATH

STATESMEN, DIPLOMATS, MANY CITIZENS SEE CEREMONY HELD IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 4.—In the presence of a great assemblage of statesmen, diplomats, jurists and citizens, Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts today took the oath as vice president of the United States and presiding officer of the senate.

The ceremonies attendant on his induction into office have been fixed by long custom, and in some respects rivaled in dignity and pomp the inauguration of President Harding, which followed.

Just before noon, Vice President Marshall called on the senate to prepare for the ceremonies. Senators thereupon grouped themselves on the left of the vice president's chair, and in a few moments members of the house, headed by Speaker Gillette, arrived and took seats on Marshall's right. Gillette was escorted to a seat directly beside Marshall, and on his left.

High Officials Arrive

Then with great dignity the sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of high army and navy officials, who paraded to places assigned them. Following came members of the diplomatic corps, ambassadors and ministers, with their attaches, whose gold lace lent a touch of color to the scene. Next arrived the supreme court, with Chief Justice White leading, and the associate justices in their stiff black robes.

At this point the sergeant-at-arms announced the arrival of President Wilson and President-elect Harding, who, amid great applause, were escorted by the joint congressional committee on arrangements to seats directly in front of Vice President Marshall.

66th Congress Is Ended

Finally Coolidge was escorted to the chamber, and standing with upraised hand before Marshall, took the oath to uphold the Constitution. This done, the ceremony and the life of the sixty-sixth congress came to an end with the dropping of Marshall's gavel.

Marshall and the retiring senators became private citizens with the sine die adjournment of the old congress.

Immediately after Coolidge's inauguration was completed, a procession began from the chamber to the stand at the east front of the capitol, where Harding was inaugurated.

NOTED WAR WORKER VISITS RELATIVES IN GLENDALE

MRS. ARTHUR M. DOW RETURNS FROM FRANCE AND IS ON HER WAY TO INDIA

Mrs. Arthur M. Dow, who for the past two years has been doing war work for the Y. W. C. A., today visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lillian E. Dow, and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 221 North Central avenue and her aunt, Mrs. Harriet M. Dow of 309 North Orange street.

While in Europe Mrs. Dow worked in the hostess houses in France, Germany, Belgium and England. She leaves this evening for Vancouver, B. C., from which place she will sail for China and India on March 10 on the "Empress of Russia." Mrs. Dow will be engaged in hostess house work in India.

In Charge of Hostess House

Mrs. Arthur M. Dow had charge of the hostess house at the largest cemetery in France, the Argonne cemetery, where 22,000 American men are buried. At this hostess house the mothers, fathers and other relatives coming to visit the graves were taken care of.

The American government is keeping up the cemetery, while the Y. W. C. A. has the hostess house. Hundreds of ex-soldiers return to visit the battlefields, some of them bringing relatives, and go over the territory covered while they were with the A. E. F.

RAMONA PLEASES GLENDALE PUBLIC

HELEN HUNT JACKSON STORY SHOWN; MONROE SALISBURY TO APPEAR TONIGHT

Monroe Salisbury, who plays the role of Alessandro Assis in the film recreation of Helen Hunt Jackson's story of early California, will be present in person at the Glendale Theatre tonight for the final showings of "Ramona."

Record audiences saw "Ramona" yesterday, for it is a photoplay that appeals. It is a tale of that which all should know, the history of this section of California. Such familiar names as Santa Barbara, Monterey and San Gabriel, Camulos, Temecula and San Diego, San Pasquale, Saboba, Cahuilla and San Bernardino flash by as the romance reaches the climax.

One must simply go to see why, in Helen Hunt Jackson's words, "Few husbands were so blessed as the Senor Felipe Moreno. Sons and daughters came to bear his name. The daughters were all beautiful; but the most beautiful of them all, and, it was said, the most beloved by both the father and mother, was the oldest one—the daughter who bore the mother's name, and was only the stepdaughter of the senor, Ramona—Ramona, daughter of Alessandro, the Indian."

Madame Clement's rendition of "When It's Apple Blossom Time in Normandy" struck a popular chord and this delightful number will be on the program again tonight. "Trouble Bubbles" and Pathe News are the other film attractions.

NEW SHOE STORE OPENS SATURDAY

GUARANTEED GOODS AT LESS THAN DOWNTOWN PRICES PROMISED BY OWNERS

The Broadway Shoe store at 312 East Broadway throws open its doors tomorrow with a large stock of guaranteed goods at less than downtown prices, according to the owners, Alfred Baines and A. E. Ecklebarger. They have been conducting a shoe repairing shop at that location for some time and they will continue that service, having moved the machinery for the work to the rear of the store room.

"Small profits and quick returns" is the motto of the new concern which has purchased the best lines of shoes for the whole family to sell at prices within the reach of all. The proprietors stand behind every pair of shoes put over the counter at these new low figures as both have had experience in the business and know the kind of goods they have to sell.

Experienced in Business

Mr. Baines has had twenty-eight years' experience as foreman and superintendent of eastern factories and knows how shoes are built, how they wear and how to fix them after they have served their wearers well.

Mr. Ecklebarger was in the retail shoe business in Goshen, Ind., and has been a resident of Glendale at various times.

MISS TALMADGE AT PALACE GRAND

UNUSUAL PICTURE SHOWN IN WHICH SITUATIONS ARE RATHER INTERESTING

"Dangerous Business" which opened its two-day engagement at the Palace Grand yesterday, is a film version of the widely-read novel "The Chessboard," written by Madelaine Sharp Buchanan, and adapted for the screen by John Emerson and Anita Loos.

It is different than the usual run of photoplays inasmuch as in the big scene in which the supposed "husband" orders his bride to undress and go to bed in their bridal suite she is forced to obey through stress of circumstances and no third party breaks down the door and rescues the unwed girl in the nick of time, as has always heretofore happened in the fifth reel.

The audience positively gasps at this new and daring situation. It is not a play that is supposed to convey a message, or encompass a vital idea, but the climax of this uncommon plot is too good to spoil in the telling.

The heroine is played by Constance Talmadge, whose popularity among film fans will be further enhanced by the freshness and charm she displays in the role of Nancy Flavell. The picture has been lavishly staged and has an appropriate cast.

"Out for the Night" proves a pleasing comedy and Kinogram News adds to the program. The Palace Grand orchestra selections are equal to the films.

Nickel steel with a platinum covering is being used to displace platinum wire in incandescent lights.

WAR SCENES ON VERDUGO'S HILLS

GEORGE MELFORD DIRECTED IN 1913 AND MANY GLENDALE PEOPLE PARTICIPATED

George Melford, directing the Kalem film forces here in 1913, and who has since won further fame in the cinema world, produced some of the first "war" pictures made in the Verdugo foothills in that year.

It was just about eight years ago when he was making a photoplay of the "Boer War." Hundreds of Glendale people took part in the production and the roar of guns shook the city for three days.

In those days the retired residents took a great deal of pleasure in going out with the film concerns as "extras."

And all they got for it was their lunch.

MONTROSE TRACT EIGHT YEARS OLD

OPENED WITH BIG BARBECUE AND MANY LOTS ARE SOLD IN VERY FEW WEEKS

It was just eight years ago that Montrose was put on the market by the Holmes-Walton company. The tract was opened with a big barbecue and practically a good sized townsite was sold out within a few weeks.

Several dozen beautiful homes and foothill estates have been built. Montrose's store building is used for residential purposes. The lumber yards have been turned into car sheds for the Glendale & Montrose railroad and there is a gas station for the constant stream of motorists, passing over the hills to Pasadena from Glendale. Some day, however, the foothill community will go rapidly to the fore.

Look up the advertisement in Thursday's News. The contest closes Saturday night.

S. BERMAN WINS FINE PATRONAGE

WELL KNOWN TAILOR HERE FOR MANY YEARS AND HAS LONG LIST CUSTOMERS

When the present owner of The Glendale Evening News took charge of the paper eight years ago, S. Berman was the Glendale tailor. He had been making suits for Glendale men for two or three years prior to that time and he has been on the job ever since.

Mr. Berman has been successful because he has those attributes that attract customers. Fair treatment and satisfaction is assured the patron who comes to him for the first time and when this promise is fulfilled it naturally brings the customer back again and again.

Mr. Berman has a long list of customers who have not found it necessary to go to Los Angeles for fine tailoring for ten or eleven years. He finds that Glendale people demand the best fabrics and a large selection to choose from and he makes a special feature of carrying large stocks of the latest things in woolens for men's suits.

PROTEST MADE AND TRUSTEES REJECT SYCAMORE BIDS

the board, announced that, to date, the proposed improvement proceedings, at various times, has cost the city close to $4,000.

City Manager's Report

The communication of the city manager in regard to the proposed work and his recommendation follows:

"In regard to bids for improvement of Sycamore Canyon Road referred to us at your last meeting, we beg to report as follows:

"There were four bids received as follows:

"(1) L. A. Paving company, $128,192.20.

"(2) G. R. Curtis, $131,207.

"(3) G. H. Oswold, $132,601.50.

"(4) P. L. Ferry, $135,574.

"The lowest is that of the Los Angeles Paving company. This bid is $4,921.80 lower than Mr. Curtis's former bid which was rejected several months ago.

"In regard to the objection that has been raised to the present proceedings in that the plan for the roadway has been changed eliminating the reserve for railroad private right-of-way in the center from Broadway south, it might be well to state that before this change was made the matter of extending the Pacific Electric railroad along the center of this street was taken up with some of the property holders interested, also with the railway company, and an effort was made to arrive at a mutual plan and agreement whereby this extension would be made.

Pacific Electric's Views

"H. B. Titcomb, vice-president of the Pacific Electric company, stated that he would recommend to his company that the extension be made provided the property holders interested would guarantee the interest for a period of five years on the investment necessary to cover the cost of such extension. This proposition was taken up with a number of the property holders having large interests that would be affected thereby and their opinion as expressed to us was that such guarantee could not be obtained. It did not seem advisable in view of the foregoing to leave the center portion of this street unpaved for an indefinite period on account of the liability of its being washed out by storm waters, thus endangering the entire improvement. For that reason it was thought best to pave the entire roadway fifty-six feet in width.

Bus Service Proposed

"We wish to state further, however, that the matter of obtaining passenger transportation service for the southeastern section of the city has not been lost sight of. We have discussed the proposition of the Pacific Electric company furnishing this service by means of bus service that would be operated over Sycamore Canyon Road when it is improved and extended to a junction with Brand boulevard in the vicinity of Cypress street as originally planned. In this connection we are authorized by Mr. Titcomb to state that should this improvement be completed as planned he would recommend to the Pacific Electric company that a line of passenger buses be operated thereon giving through service by transferring to the main line at Brand boulevard and Cypress street or thereabouts and at the East Broadway terminus; fares to be the same as on main line.

"We sincerely believe that with the co-operation of property holders of the eastern and southeastern sections of the city this project can be completed as originally planned and the objects sought at that time realized. However, inasmuch as there is strong opposition on the part of a large number of the property holders that will be included within the assessment district to pay the cost of this improvement, we respectfully submit for your consideration the following proposition:

"That the bids of G. R. Curtis, G. H. Oswold and P. L. Ferry be rejected and that the bid of the Los Angeles Paving company be taken under advisement for a period of four weeks and that the people of the district be requested to present any alternative proposition they may have to offer as a substitute for the present plans within four weeks from this date and that further consideration of this matter be continued until that date."

JAPAN IS SECRETLY GAINING CONTROL THROUGH ASIA

WARNING IS ISSUED TO U. S. BY MAN HELD AS EXPERT ON ORIENTAL AFFAIRS

BY HAROLD D. JACOBS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Japan is employing her controversy with the United States over the island of Yap as a smoke screen behind which she can consolidate her expansionist campaign in Asia, Professor Walter B. Pikin of Columbia university declared in an interview with the United Press today.

While Japan does not want war with this country, she will not hesitate to begin hostilities should we attempt to interfere with the progress of her scheme of imperialism, according to Pitkin, who is regarded as an authority on Oriental affairs.

"For the next ten years the great European powers unquestionably will be concerned almost wholly with forcing Germany to meet her reparations payments," Pitkin said.

Japan Is Left Free

"Obviously they will not dare to weaken their naval and military strength in Europe. This will leave Japan free to pursue her territorial designs, especially in Siberia, with only the United States to intervene—even should we feel called upon to do so.

"Thus while Japan's present colosal expenditures on armament are not aimed directly at us, her militarists feel that we are the one nation against whom they are most likely to be employed.

"In my opinion Japan is deliberately prolonging the dispute regarding her mandate over Yap merely to provide a 'trading point' with the United States, just as she has so ardently insisted upon her alleged rights in California, and has sought to colonize Hawaii and the Philippines. She wants to be in a position to say, should a really critical situation arise through renewal of American protests over her occupation of Siberia: 'Well, we have made or will make certain concessions regarding Yap, California, Hawaii and the Philippines. Now leave us alone.'"

CHARTERING OF AIR IS ESSENTIAL TO U. S. DEFENSES

ASSISTANT CHIEF OF BUREAU MAKES STATEMENT ABOUT NEW DEVELOPMENTS

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The chartering of the air is essential to the national defense of the United States, Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, said in an interview with the United Press.

Mitchell declared that the "laying of the cornerstone" here recently of America's first "Airway" from Washington to Dayton, Ohio, will prove to be a "vital milestone in the progress and development of both commercial and military aeronautics."

"The limitless and boundless ocean of the air," General Mitchell said, "must be explored and chartered just as unknown lands and oceans, so that navigators may with ease make their way without loss of time or danger across vast expanses of territory in peace or war.

Should Establish Routes

"The establishment of well organized air routes throughout the country, especially in America, is as essential to a well balanced system of national defense as is the development work on the aircraft itself.

"The installation of an airway entails the location of landing fields with all accessories, including radio direction finding, radio communication, aids to night navigation, housing and maintenance of equipment. It is undoubtedly true that with properly established airways of this kind, cross country flying, night or day, in good or bad weather, will be safer than auto touring by road, and that with the development and perfection of the machine itself, will in time surpass in speed, comfort, and safety, the modern comforts of transports.

Legislative Restriction

"These air routes will provide a network whereon the units of the National Guard and the organized reserve of the army can be placed. However, these highways of the air will not be usurped by the air service, but they will be open, under legislative restrictions, to all commercial operators, who will receive all the benefits and conveniences of such an organization; therefore commercial aeronautic interests will be fostered.

"The model airway, between Washington and Dayton will become then the first unit in a systematic system of airways throughout the United States which will be started under a policy formulated by the air army service and which will be guided in its organization by the experience gained from the establishment of and operation of the model airway.

"The model airway as chosen is extremely well suited to the purpose of serving as a basic guide in this expansion program. Almost all of the natural problems attendant to successful air navigation are met on this airway, which is one that will always be needed. Incidentally, it connects Washington with the air service engineering division headquarters. In the course of this route appear mountains to be passed over, varying climatic conditions and terrain of almost every type and character."

FORTIFICATIONS FOR FRANCE WILL BE MODERNIZED

FORTS WILL NO LONGER BE ON HILLTOPS BUT WILL BE PUT IN VALLEYS

PARIS — French military chiefs have just made a notable decision after studying the war records of fortifications which have been relied upon since 1870 to protect the chief cities. The old-time fortifications always were constructed on the top of hills at suitable distances from the cities themselves, but in the future they will be confined to valleys, preferably near cities, but protected from enemy fire by intervening ridges as well as a highly developed air force.

Just where the protective forts encircling Paris are to be located has not yet been decided, but experts hope to settle the question before summer arrives, which would make it possible to reconstruct the armor-clad gun emplacements before winter.

The Alsace-Lorraine frontier fortress line will be located at least twenty-five miles behind the actual frontiers, and will be in the Vosges foothills, which form the last natural protective line before reaching the Verdun-Rheims line which taxed the kaiser's artillery to the utmost during the entire war.

Calcimine or whitewash on wood proves to be resistant to fire to a certain extent. While it does not prevent burning at high temperature, it lessens the risk of fire from cigarettes, sparks and matches and is cheap and practical.

ATLANTA, Ga.—The Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad today was placed in the hands of a receiver in the United States district court. Col. B. L. This takes the matter of the road's wage dispute out of the hands of the federal rail board and places the question of wages, as well as all other details of the operation of the road directly in the hands of the United States court.

There were 487 burglaries in Los Angeles city alone during the month of February. There are about five burglaries to one fire, yet every one carries fire insurance while many neglect to carry burglar insurance. Call us up and let us explain our burglary policy and terms.

During the month of February in Los Angeles there were 209 autos stolen. Suppose yours had been among them. Can you afford to be without insurance? There were 391 persons injured and 248 accidents and in our own city of Glendale there were 30 auto accidents during the month. Can you carry this great responsibility?

DIPLOMATIC CHIEFS WISH PRINCE TO VISIT AMERICA

JAPANESE LEADERS SAY THAT HEIR WOULD HAVE HELPED TO CLEAR SITUATION

WASHINGTON—There is a feeling of regret in Japanese diplomatic circles here that Crown Prince Hirohito of Japan has decided not to come to the United States in connection with his forthcoming visit to European countries.

A visit of the crown prince to the United States and an official exchange of courtesies with President Harding and other American government leaders would go far toward clearing up present difficulties between the two countries, it is believed. The young crown prince, who is only twenty, has the fundamentals of a world statesman, his admirers declare.

Crown Prince Hirohito will leave Japan for Great Britain, the first European country to be visited, on March 13, it was announced by the Japanese embassy here. He and his party will sail for Europe on two Japanese cruisers, one of which was built in Great Britain, going west by way of the Indian ocean. The prince also is said to plan to visit France, Italy and Belgium. He will exchange courtesies with the rulers of these four countries and make a study of post-war conditions. The prince's visit is said, however, to have no political significance.

Accompanying the crown prince will be another royal Japanese prince, Prince Kanin. Each will have his own official party. In the crown prince's party will be Viscount Chinda, former Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, and Mr. Saionji, Jr., son of Marquis Saionji, who was chief of the Japanese mission to the Paris peace conference.

MAKERS OF GERMAN PICTURES HOPING TO INVADE U. S.

PROMOTERS BELIEVE AMERICA TIRED OF OWN FILMS OF BUT SINGLE THEME

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN — Experiencing more or less of a "crisis" in disposing of its goods, the German film industry is looking to America, England, France and Italy for a market.

The success of the first German films sent to the states since the war has encouraged film makers to believe that they can enter the American market. This hope is largely based on their idea that America is tired of her own films, on the ground that they are built too much on one theme.

The American "crisis" in the film business is attributed by the German makers, not to a decreased love for movies, or the "kino," as the German calls it, but to a change in the American taste. The German makers hope to meet this changed taste.

There is a movement for consolidation of concerns, squeezing out the "small fry," and purifying the tone of the films by also driving out men attracted to the business at the time when large profits could be made with low grade goods. This movement is succeeding, and it can be foreseen that within the next few years only a few major concerns will be operating here.

Put on Higher Plane

And the effort to put the German film on a higher plane is likewise succeeding. A year and two years ago, many of the German products were revoltingly obscene. They could not have played in any movie house in the state. But this is gradually altering, and while one still finds many perverted presentations, there is a gradual trend toward a better moral and mental tone.

Great events in history and literature are being spectacularly staged at large costs and with big casts. There is quite an actor colony in Berlin, and this attracts many young girls, just as the Los Angeles studios do, but the glamour is not so great as in the states.

Among the German stars are Henry Porten, Fern Andra (formerly America), Mia May, Pola Negri, Asta Nielsen, Harry Piel, Sahret (formerly America), Paul Wegener, Erich Kaiser-Tietz.

IDEAL LOVER IS NOT FOUND IN FILMS ITALY SHOWS

THERE ARE NOT HEROES SUCH AS AMERICAN GIRLS LOOK TO FIND ON SCREEN

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent

ROME — There are no heroes in Italian film-land. Neither does the ideal lover exist there.

The American girl movie fan whose one thrill in life is to see her favorite film star on the screen would die of emotional inanition in twenty-four hours in Italy.

What complicates the situation is that the "ideal lover" in Italian film-land "ain't." In fact, he's everything to the contrary. He is always a chap who having won the love of the heroine of the film promptly falls in love with No. 2 (in the event he wasn't already in love with her before he married the heroine), and such a lover as that would never go down the throats of fair American film fans. On the other hand, any other kind wouldn't go down the throats of Italian lady film worshippers.

Nevertheless, the "cinematografo," as it is unabbreviatedly known in Italy, has become one of the biggest of Italian modern industries. Atmospheric conditions which all but rival those of California for picture taking, as well as an inexhaustible field of historic bankgrounds and settings, have contributed much to the success of the Italian industry.

Many People Employed

The three principal movie producing centers in Italy are Rome, Turin and Milan, although both Naples and Sicily have producing houses. Rome alone boasts twenty producing houses, the best known ones of which are Cines, Cesar, Tiber, Quirinos, Risnascimento, Lucio d'Ambra, Do-Re-Mi and Polidor. They employ a total of 4000 people, including both artists, operators and workmen. About fifty moving picture houses are constantly open at Rome.

As a producing center, Turin comes next with fifteen producing houses. They employ 3000 artists and workmen, while Turin has also forty movie houses. Milan has ten producing houses. There are also fifty more houses at Milan for showing films. Italian films average from two thousand to three thousand yards and the national output of the fifty odd houses is from one to two films a day or about 500 films a year.

This Man Is Active

Despite the fact that Italians enjoy inthe extreme degree humorous films, only one house has succeeded in making a specialty of producing these and that is Polidor. His comics run from 500 to 700 yards. He is his own proprietor, his own director, his own play writer, and together with his wife comes pretty near being all the cast himself. His real name is Frederico Guillaume and in Italy he is what Charlie Chaplin is in America.

Altogether film-land in Italy employs about 10,000 people, including 300 actors and actresses, about 100 directors and mounters and an equal number of operators.

Some of Salaries Paid

The average pay for the average actors and actresses is forty francs a day, while the leading stars have succeeded in attaining salaries that according to Italian standards are fully as extraordinary as are those of the American top-notchers. The lesser stars draw from 2000 to 10,000 lire a month, while Francesca Bertini pulls down two million francs a year.

For the time being the Italian movie industry is undergoing a hard crisis, due to various causes, and in order to eliminate ruinous competition the leading Italian houses have organized a trust known as the Unione Cinematografica.

American films are at all times the most sought after in Italy. The Triangle, Famous Players corporation and Transatlantic productions are the most popular but are now meeting with a certain serious competition in the German films being put out by the "U. S. A." Recently there has been something of a scarcity of American films in Italy.

The House of Representatives has passed the agricultural appropriation bill, carrying $33,877,000.

JOINT CAPITALS OF IRELAND DISPLAY DIFFERENCES

BELFAST AND DUBLIN INDICATE BY VARIED METHODS THEIR VIEWS ON HOME RULE

By CHARLES McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

DUBLIN — Belfast and Dublin, joint capitals of Ireland under the forthcoming home rule plan, seem very much alike to a visiting stranger. Really they are as alien as two cities on the same island and whose people wear the same sort of clothes could be.

Dublin is home-like and pretty. Belfast is busy. Belfast is trying to start a home rule bill two-thirds of its people never wanted. Dublin, with the rest of the 80 or 85 per cent of Ireland's population, who have been trying to obtain home rule for centuries, greets talk of the present bill with what is usually known as a "horse laugh."

In Belfast, the fighting is done among the Orangemen and Sinn Feiners, who comprise the population. In Dublin the population fights the government. Dublin has its curfew at 10 o'clock, and Belfast goes to bed a half hour later since the serious riots of last summer, when curfew was imposed.

Unarmed and Unhurt

Soldiers walk about the streets of both cities unarmed and unhurt. The royal Irish constabulary act as traffic policemen and patrolmen in Belfast. In Dublin they never appear on the streets except in lorries, armed with rifles and pistols. In Belfast, as well as in Dublin, armored cars or lorry loads of soldiers or police, their rifles leveled outward at the crowd, fingers on triggers, are seen frequently, though more frequently in Dublin. But Belfast does not see usually the "black and tans," as the reprisal men have become known. And in Belfast it is not on the day's program for the ordinary citizen to be searched for arms on the street.

Landmarks of Rebellion

Belfast's experience of the rebellion has been to a great extent superficial. Dublin's has been real. From a distance the huge stone-pillared front of the postoffice looks normal. On nearer approach it is seen that the windows are boarded; and then, that the building is a shell, roofless and with most of its sides and rear leveled nearly to the street. It is one of the few landmarks of the 1916 rebellion, when Sackville street was shelled and several city blocks destroyed.

The greatest apparent difference is that observed when lorries full of soldiers or police are about. They are unnoticed in Belfast; but in Dublin there is always the possibility that firing of some sort will follow and the crowds are both watchful and wary.

Motor travel on highly improved highways paralleling its line has so seriously affected the passenger traffic of the Chesapeake and Western Railway company in Virginia that the railroad has petitioned the state corporation commission for permission to abandon passenger service on the road.

The shortage of both fuel oil and coal in certain parts of Canada is hampering railroad operations to a certain extent. The question of the electrification of railways is under discussion and the Canadian Pacific Railway company has taken steps to electrify its lines in British Columbia.

THOUSANDS OF YANK BOYS WEDDED TO GERMAN GIRLS

MARRYING CEASING, HOWEVER, AS TIME TO LEAVE RHINE DISTRICT APPROACHES

PARIS—More than 3000 American troops on the Rhine have married German girls, but the daily marriages have ceased since the possibility loomed large that the American army of occupation would be withdrawn from the Coblenz area soon, according to the report of the Coblenz correspondent of the Intransigeant.

"These marriages," the correspondent writes, "were among young women of the commoner German families, the bourgeoisie always remaining very distant from the American officers and even from the diplomats of the inter-allied commission."

The correspondent commends the discipline Major General Henry T. Allen has maintained in the Coblenz area, declaring he has created greatest respect in the German mind by his distinctly American methods.

Crowd Quickly Cowed

For instance, when Coblenz was thronged into the streets one Sunday, last month, and the Germans there were trying to provoke a demonstration against further French occupation of German territory, 500 khaki-clad troops suddenly marched out of their barracks, maneuvered and were drawn up in the streets without a single order and then returned to their barracks, leaving the crowd completely cowed.

Several days later the Germans were astonished by a great military show, in which a sham battle was staged in a ravine, real shells being fired which shattered tree trunks, while real bullets rattled from hidden machine guns.

"The Americans," he concluded, "have during nearly three years shown the admiring Germans a force which should be replaced by one which is just as peremptory, just as rough, just as firm, but there must be no daily marrying if the French are to take over the Coblenz bridgehead."

DECISION COSTLY TO FEDERAL TAX

LARGE SUM OF MONEY TO BE LOST TO U. S. TREASURY RESULT OF RULING

WASHINGTON—A large amount of federal inheritance taxes collected under the revenue act of 1916 will be lost to the United States treasury as the result of a decision by the supreme court.

The decision held that the provisions of the act in question do not render taxable "an estate passing under testamentary execution of a general power of appointment created prior, but exercised subsequent to the passage of the act."

ULSTER ANXIOUS TO GET LEADERS OF HIGH CALIBRE

PEOPLE BELIEVE FUTURE OF IRELAND DEPENDS UPON FIRST PARLIAMENT

By CHARLES McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

BELFAST — Ulster, believing the future history of Ireland depends on its successful operation of the home rule bill, is alive to the warnings of its leaders that upon the calibre and work of its first parliament depends the operation itself.

Bitterly disappointed, though hardly surprised, at Sir Edward Carson's refusal to become first premier, the unionist leaders are going ahead with the material they have.

From the members of the first parliament will be selected the cabinet, which Sir James Craig has consented to lead as premier if his selection is unanimous. The first parliament, too, will elect the senate.

Look for Right Man

Prospective members of the government now are devoting most of their time to becoming acquainted with the existing British government departments which they must overtake and operate. Leaders despair of obtaining a man who can take Carson's place, but they are not discouraged. They are looking for a man—whom they believe they have in Sir James Craig—who must be, as a unionist expressed it, "an architect as well as a builder"—who can design what is really Ulster's future. He must, the unionist added, "dream the full design before he begins to build."

The present government will be taken over with Ulster as capital of a small semi-dependent country. Formerly the government emanated from London and centered in Dublin.

Leaders regard as equally important the British and southern Irish reactions to the operation of the new regime. British sentiment toward the future of the whole of Ireland will rest largely on the way Ulster gets along. Southern Ireland, particularly the nationalists, also are expected to judge by the first government—enthusiastically condemning a failure or reluctantly recognizing, perhaps by imitation, a success.

Problem of Religion

One problem troubling moderate leaders in Ulster is what one of them called "small ideas." Belfast, the capital, has one-third the total population of the province. Its people have totally different outlooks from the farmers who comprise much of the remainder of the population.

There is also the problem of religion. In southern Ireland religious feeling is not intense. In Ulster religion is the problem. It is not possible to find a Protestant in a Catholic club. It is similar in everything else. If there are thirty school children in a town, ten Catholics, ten Episcopalians and ten Presbyterians, it is possible for their parents to demand and obtain separate schools, each with an attendance of ten.

A former soldier now living in Walcott, North Dakota, recently received a notice from the War Department, addressed to his family, citing him for bravery "in giving his life on the battlefields of France." His efforts to correct War Department notice to his family that he had been killed in action in 1918 have thus far proved futile.

SMALL BOY AGREES TO BE OFFICIAL MOVIE CENSOR

SON OF HEAD OF CALIFORNIA EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT IS WILLING TO ACT

SACRAMENTO—The movie censor is here.

Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, converted the state board of education rooms recently into a projecting room and censored an educational film.

If the bill presented the state assembly by Assemblyman Edgar S. Hurley of Oakland is passed, the state board of education and state superintendent of public instruction will be made official censor of all moving pictures shown in this state.

The film was an Americanization film made and shown by C. H. Slevine of Los Angeles.

"While I enjoyed the three reels and found them highly instructive, I don't feel that I want to give all my time to censoring films," said Wood. "However, my small boy has agreed to relieve me of the full responsibility and serve for nothing."

A get-together conference is to be held in Madison, Wisconsin, from February 1 to 10 in an effort to solve the future outlook of farming for the young man, for the renter and for the owner. A score of organizations of producers are billed to meet at the capital at that time and the meetings will be of state and national importance.

CLAIMS USE OF OIL NOW EXCEEDING PRODUCTION

ANOTHER SERIOUS SHORTAGE DUE, IS STATEMENT MADE BY INSTITUTE HEAD

NEW YORK—The principle underlying the world oil situation is whether national power shall be sustained on land and sea by the acquisition and control of oil at home and abroad according to R. L. Welch, general secretary and counsel of the American Petroleum Institute.

This statement is contained in Welch's forthcoming report, a section of which was made public today.

Welch declares this phase is a "larger issue than the interest of any or all of the American or foreign companies engaged in the business."

Welch reports the findings of the American delegates to the international chamber of commerce in Paris as follows:

"The consumption of petroleum throughout the world is exceeding production.

"The world is confronted with a serious shortage in the near future unless energetic efforts are made to increase production.

"Sufficient undiscovered petroleum deposits exist to supply present and future requirements."

The Social Service Council of Canada, an undenominational body operating all through the Dominion, has as its object the nation-wide co-operation of provincial motion picture censors in the matter of condemning objectionable pictures.

Our present production of hydro-electric power is roughly equivalent to 40,000,000 tons of coal.

FACTS OF INTEREST GATHERED ABOUT MONTE CARLO

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY GETS SOME INFORMATION UPON LITTLEST OF POWERS

WASHINGTON — Historic background for Monte Carlo's national—and international—place in the economic scheme of things seems to have been discovered at last. A survey of the "littlest of powers" by the "National Geographic society, just published, finds that Theodoric the Great was a man of most "delightful manners at dice." He alone of European conquerors, it adds, gave Monaco respite from wars.

Theodoric must also be conceded the title of "good sport" even in these modern times, for the Geographers have found this comment on him:

"If Theodoric loses, he laughs; he is modest and reticent if he wins."

But they could find no smaller nation to replace Monaco as the littlest power of the world, at least territorially speaking.

From Visiting Bankrolls

Its eight equare miles, completely covered with gambling tables in popular fancy, is unmatched down the scale, its population of 23,000 defies comparison. Imports include visitors, 2,000,000 of them in 1913; revenues come from visiting bank rolls, it appears, and exports are chiefly bulged pocketbooks or blasted hopes.

San Marino, completely surrounded by Italy, stands next with thirty-eight square miles, the geographic experts state, and is remarkable chiefly because it has virtually no police force. Reason for this is found in the retiring and peace-loving disposition of the good saint after whom the little republic is named, for saving finished helping oppressed Christians to wall in the city of Rimini, San Marino, retired to this spot, so the legend goes, to solitude and simple living and taught his people to make war only in self-defense.

Andorra, a bit of Spain 191 square miles in size and 10,000 feet in air in the heart of the Pyrenees, is enrolled with the little powers. It is ruled by a first syndicate and smuggling route between rance and Spain is said to have been much patronized during the war in that way.

Army Is Not Needed

Then there is Liechtenstein, sixty-five square miles, surrounded by Switzerland and Austria, which finds it unnecessary to have an army at all, not since 1886.

Luxemburg, well and favorably known to the American soldiers who tramped through it en route to the Rhine; the occupied zone along the great German river and Turkey-in-Europe, reduced to the environs west of Constantinople, also is noted among possible "little powers;" but one name has been dropped from the roll, Montenegro, now part of the kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

A shell from one of Admiral Dewey's guns, after lying for twenty-two years in a vacant lot in Manila, exploded when a lad picked it up and hurled it against a rock. The concussion knocked three boys to the ground and painfully injured them.

WHEREAS, The Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale at its regular meeting held on the 13th day of January, 1921, by a vote of more than two-thirds of all its members, duly passed and adopted a resolution determining that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of Glendale of those four certain municipal improvements hereinafter in this ordinance described, and that the estimated cost of each of said municipal improvements is as hereinafter stated and is, and will be, too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city:

NOW, THEREFORE, The Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale do ordain as follows:

That the amount of the principal of said indebtedness to be incurred therefor is the sum of $100,000.00 Dollars, and that the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall be six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, which rate shall not be exceeded in the issuance of bonds for such indebtedness. Said first proposition of incurring indebtedness shall be designated on the ballots used at said election by the following question, to-wit:

"Shall the City of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $100,000.00 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing pipes, pipe lines, transmission mains and suitable fittings and attachments therefor in connection with the development, extension and operation of the municipal water works and system?"

That if the said first proposition for incurring indebtedness so submitted at said election receives the requisite number of votes, to-wit: two-thirds of the votes of the qualified voters voting at such election, bonds of said City in the amount of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars shall be issued and sold for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing said municipal improvement; both principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness.

SECTION 3. The second proposition of incurring an indebtedness to be submitted at said election shall be as follows:

SOUTHERN IRELAND CONTROL SOUGHT BY SINN FEIN

AMBITIOUS REPUBLICAN PLAN IS BEING UNDERTAKEN BY PARTY'S PARLIAMENT

By CHARLES M'CANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

DUBLIN—Dail Eireann, the Sinn Fein parliament, is planning perhaps its most ambitious republican scheme by which it hopes to obtain complete control of municipal government throughout southern Ireland.

With the beginning of the new British financial year, the republican government will attempt to supersede the present British officials in collecting taxes as well as in governing bodies.

Sinn Fein regards the new plan as a definite commital to outlawry against the British government, a Dail Eireann finance official told the United Press.

Local government in Ireland is administered by county councils, who are responsible to a local government board, named by the government, at Dublin. The local government board really controls the county councils. It has the power to veto, and is supposed to receive the minutes of all meetings for approval.

The local government boards are not now receiving minutes of the local bodies—composed almost entirely of Sinn Feiners—and according to Dail Eireann are largely obstructive, collecting rates by coercion through the present tax collectors, who are heavily bonded.

Bonds Soon Expire

In a few days the bonds of the old collectors expire. Sinn Fein hopes then to obtain direct absolute control of the collection of ordinary taxes. They will retain some old collectors and appoint others. Officials hope that, from the British government viewpoint, no rates will be collected; and that Dail Eireann, actually collecting and administering the taxes, will be able by greater efficiency to overcome the withdrawal of the British government's usual grant of 1,500,000 pounds a year, given as a rebate from Ireland's contribution to the imperial treasury.

Government Opposition

At present, Dail Eireann is receiving minutes of most local governing bodies, it claims the reports that formrerly went to the British local government board. The Dail is also issuing orders, which the county councils are obeying voluntarily. The councils are carrying on their work, partly from republican funds and partly by the help of banks.

The government is actively opposing the Dail's attempt to control the councils. Many councilors have been arrested, and the Dail is speculating on the possibility that the government will begin, with the new financial year, a "no taxes" campaign, threatening the country with cessation of roadwork, dissolution of asylums and poorhouses—complete paralysis, in fact.

In this event, the Dail hopes to take the government's place.

In preparation for the fight ahead, local bodies will submit estimates to the Dail for the forthcoming year with the idea that there will be no government grants.

SOCIAL WORKER IN FAVOR OF OFFER TO AID CUPID

SCHEME TO SEND ARMY OF MARRYING MALES INTO FRANCE IS APPROVED

PARIS—Although the French foreign office is not interested in the recent offer of a California justice of the peace to organize groups of eligible males to come to France and relieve the yearnings of 2,000,000 demoiselles for whom there is little possibility of marriage since the war, the idea has gained the approval of Mme. De Callais, noted French social worker, who is urging the French feminist associations to take the initiative themselves in communicating with well-meaning Californians.

Writing in La Francaise, Mme. De Callais insists that the offer merits every consideration, as it will restore the French population with a good guaranty.

"But we must overcome the vaudeville side of any such arrangement," she insists. "We do not want them to come with banners flying and crying 'nous voici, Lafayette' like Pershing's heroes. They must not be sheltered while seeking the blushing blondes and brunettes in empty barracks or remodeled ration booths. But there is no reason why a systematic effort should not be made by French welfare organizations to put our marriageable women in touch with hearts across the Atlantic."

BOTH ROMANCE AND PATHOS SHOWN BY LIQUIDATION

ONCE PROUD AND POWERFUL BANK WRECKED AS RESULT OF WAR AND POLITICS

VIENNA—The romance of finance—and the pathos—are disclosed in the liquidation of the once proud and powerful Austro-Hungarian bank, one of the oldest banks in the world, and one of the richest, with billions of gold in its vaults and billions of notes in circulation, all now scattered by the wreckage of war and political upheaval.

For more than six months the allied liquidation commission has been at work on the affairs of the bank in an effort to wind it up in fulfillment of the treaty of St. Germain. Not only is liquidation still unaccomplished, but no one is willing to forecast when it will be.

The Austro-Hungarian bank was the bank of issue for the former dual empire and after the retirement of the "national" paper currency in the early nineties, its notes became the sole currency of the empire. While on their face they were payable in gold, that obligation was suspended by the government so that these notes became merely irredeemable paper. Coupled with this suspension was the obligation, however, to maintain the value of the notes on a parity with gold in all matters of foreign exchange.

Some Clever Financing

By clever financing and through the aid of government assets, the bank not only complied with this, but for some years before the war its notes actually commanded a premium over gold in European financial centers. It also accumulated a stock of gold exceeded in amount by only France and Russia.

The Austro-Hungarian bank had many branches. Its power reached throughout the empire and nearly all of the branches were housed in its own buildings, many of them very valuable. These buildings were promptly sequestered by the various succession states, which are still using them under more or less vague promises to pay for them.

There were a few debts to creditors in neutral states, all payable in foreign currencies. These the bank was preparing to pay on the theory that they constituted a different class of debts from the irredeemable bank notes.

No Attention Is Paid

With these paid there would remain for distribution among the succession states, making allowances for buildings seized, the remaining gold, in addition to some balances abroad, in England, France and the United States, which had been seized by these governments.

No one seems anxious to accept its loans so this once great institution is being liquidated, the executors finding only a few millions in gold to contribute to its billions of debts. No one pays attention to the shareholders, many of whom are nationals of neutral countries, which had no part in the making of the treaty.

PLENTY OF WORK AIDS LIFE, CLAIM

THIS WOMAN DECLARES SHE CAN DISTINCTLY RECALL GENERAL LAFAYETTE

WEST CHESTER, Pa.—Attributing her long and active life to plenty of hard work and an appetite which has never failed, Mrs. Julia Ann Walter is busily engaged today in knitting washrags for her friends and relatives who will call tomorrow and spend a portion of the day in properly celebrating the 106th anniversary of her birth. Mrs. Walter is the oldest woman born in Chester county, Pa.

Except for her hearing, which is badly impaired, Mrs. Walter's faculties are unimpaired. She reads newspapers and letters every day without glasses and spends much of her time knitting and sewing. She remembers very distinctly the visit in 1824 of General Lafayette to the scene of the battle of the Brandywine in which he was wounded. During the late war Mrs. Walter did a large amount of sewing for the Red Cross of which she is a member.

Mrs. Walter insists on drinking coffee with each meal, and has a particular fondness for boiled ham, and cabbage. She eats cake, ice cream and pie of all kinds.

CARRY CIVILIZATION INTO SOME PARTS OF BALKANS

NEW RAILROAD LINE WILL WORK WONDERS BEHALF DISTRICTS, BELIEF

ROME, (By Mail.)—The "Adriatico" is the name that will be given to the new line of railway that is to connect Belgrade with the Adriatic seaport of Cattaro and which is expected to work wonders in carrying modern civilization into certain sections of the Balkans.

Where the railway was the principal factor in carrying modern progress into the western portions of the United States half a century ago, the lack of railways appears to have been the determining factor in leaving portions of the Balkan peninsula in a state of primitiveness that is a surprise to Americans.

However, Yugo-Slavia's new railway project is intended more especially as a commercial short-cut to Europe, rather than purely a means of civilization. The "Adriatico" from Cattaro will connect up with Brindisi on the Italian side with huge ferry boats.

Day And Night Mail Service Is Proposed

NEW YORK—As a result of the record-breaking cross-continent trip completed by postal airplanes, a continuous day and night air mail service between New York and San Francisco will be established on May 1, it was announced by Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general. The planes will operate on a thirty-six hour schedule, according to plans now being arranged.

Small Forest Will Be Moved to New Location

PASADENA—A small forest is to be moved in this city. It consists of about 300 fine young sycamore trees. They are now located in the Arroyo Seco on city land and were set out with a view to reforestation. But football is to interfere with their careers. They are on the site of the proposed new Tournament of Roses stadium and rather than lose them the entire force of the park department has been set to work to replant them to another portion of the Arroyo.

Voices appear louder under a tunnel because the sounds are immediately reflected from the inside surface. On the same principle that a gas reflector increases the intensity of light, so a sound reflector increases the apparent strength of the voice under this condition.
